SECURITY BILL, PASSED BY HOUSE, FACES NEW DELAY

Goes to Senate Committee
Already Tied Up With Disputes Over Bonus and the NRA.

BENEFITS PROVIDED FOR AGED, JOBLESS

Measure Put Through by 372-40-33 Vote, With 77
Republicans Joining Democratic Majority.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, April 20.—Put through the House yesterday by a vote of 372 to 40, the administration security bill was sent to the Senate Finance Committee. The bill, which is designed to provide for the payment of $2,783,000,000 in new taxes for financial aid to the aged, jobless, children and mothers were in prospect.

The 372-40 House vote was made possible by smooth functioning of the overwhelming Democratic majority and by the votes of many Republicans, some of whom said they would vote for the bill on the final roll call to "political suicide."

Delay in Prospect.

The Senate Finance Committee is already tied up in controversy over the bonus and the NRA. Chairman Harrison (Dem.), Mississ., announced the security bill would be pushed ahead as rapidly as possible, but said the bonus would be taken up by his committee first, and then the bill to extend the NRA. Harrison has already been called for next week. Harrison hoped to get a bill of committee by the middle of the week.

On the Senate side of the bill, the opposition is the social security bill, more difficult than the one in the House. Although many suggestions for modifications have been made, not only from Democrats but from the Democratic side, the bill is still in the hands of the Finance Committee.

The affirmative vote in the House was 372 Democrats, 77 Republicans and 1 Farmer-Labor member.

Negative votes were cast by 13 Democrats, 10 Republicans and 2 Farmer-Labor members.

Provisions of Bill.

As passed by the House, the bill provides for the payment of $2,783,000,000 in new taxes for financial aid to the aged, jobless, children and mothers were in prospect.

The bill provides for two kinds of aid to the aged.

First, a state has a satisfactory system for needy persons aged 65 years or older, the Federal Government will pay the state $15 a month.

Second, a state has a satisfactory system for needy persons aged 65 years or older, the Federal Government will pay the state $15 a month.

SIX PERSONS KILLED WHEN CAR HITS TRUCK

Auto Runs Into Parked Machine on Road Near Salisbury, Md.

By the Associated Press.

SALISBURY, Md., April 20.—Three young men and three girls were killed today as their automobile crashed into a parked truck at Powellville, nine miles east of here. The victims were crushed inside their car by the force of the impact.

Two were killed outright and four died later in the hospital here without regaining consciousness.

The victims: Thaddeus Dykes, 25 years old; Norris M. Dykes, 22, and Wisehart Mumford, 19, of Salisbury; Violet Templeton, 17; Evelyn Willey, 17, and Agnes Taylor, 20, of Delmar.

Corporal C. E. Minnick of the State Police said the machine failed to make a curve and crashed into the truck, which had been left parked on the street by Edwin Jones of Accomac, Va.

"The car must have been traveling at least 70 miles an hour," Minnick said.

The sound of the crash awoke most of the residents of the village and they flocked to the scene to give any aid they could.

The body of Thaddeus Dykes was taken from behind the steering wheel. State police said Dykes' driver's license had been revoked by the State Motor Vehicle Commissioner. Thaddeus Dykes was a married man. All of the others were single.

3 YOUNG KILLERS SENTENCED TO DIE FOR MOSS MURDER

Execution of John Krul, Edward Balling and Van Buren Dedmon Set for June 14 at Chester.

EACH INSISTS HE DIDN'T FIRE SHOT

Judge Borders in East St. Louis City Court Hears Them and Then Pronounces Penalty.

By the Associated Press.

John Krul, Edward Balling and William Van Buren Dedmon, young East Side hoodlums who killed William C. Moss in a holdup Feb. 22, were sentenced to die in the electric chair at Chester Penitentiary June 14, by City Judge Borders at East St. Louis today.

Each one told Judge Borders that he was not guilty. Each based his contention on the assertion that he did not fire the shot that struck the 67-year-old motorman in the back and killed him. Under the law, participation in the holdup makes each one guilty of the murder. None of them denied holding up Moss.

The defendants were convicted by a jury in Judge Borders' court a week ago, after a trial in which they offered no defense, other than the arguments of their attorneys.

Judge Borders denied the motion for a new trial which was filed before sentence was passed this morning. He explained to the defendants that he set June 14 as the day of execution because the Illinois Supreme Court meets next on June 4, and under the law, a defendant may not be executed until 10 days after the final meeting of the Supreme Court following his conviction.

The judge told the young men that they had fair trials, and observed that, as far as he could see, the jury had nothing at all to deliberate about. "He argued with them bitterly before passing sentence and ended: 'The death penalty is sanctioned by the law of God and the law of man. The deputies will lead the defendants away.'"

The prisoners were taken immediately to the penitentiary.

By the Associated Press.

CHARLOTTE, N. C., April 20.—Five former State prison camp officials were indicted today as a result of inquiry into the treatment of two Negro prisoners, Woodrow Shropshire and Robert Barnes, who developed gangrenous feet so bad that the feet had to be amputated.

Those indicted were H. C. Little, former superintendent of a State prison camp in this county; Dr. C. S. McLaughlin, former county and camp physician, and R. C. Roper, J. W. Eudy and T. M. Gordon, suspended guards.

Dr. McLaughlin was indicted on a charge of neglect in performance of his duties. Little was indicted on a similar charge.

Dr. McLaughlin, Little, Roper, Eudy and Gordon were indicted on a charge of torturing the Negroes.

All were indicted on charges of maiming the Negroes.

32-TON DYNAMITE CHARGE SET OFF AT EAST SIDE QUARRY

150,000 Tons of Limestone Loosened, It Is Estimated, by Blast.

A blast of 32 tons of dynamite, one of the largest charges ever planted in this part of the country, was set off at 7 p. m. yesterday in a limestone quarry in the Casper Stolle quarry, six miles south of East St. Louis, at Falling Springs.

The roar of the explosion was heard for miles, dishes rattled on shelves in homes in South St. Louis and East St. Louis, and windows vibrated in the same districts. The blast took down a section of limestone 700 feet long, 105 feet high and about 25 feet thick. The stone dislodged by the operation will be cut and marketed by the quarry company.

Harvey Foster, blasting superintendent of the company, was in charge of planting the charges and policing roads in the vicinity of the quarry, which were blocked for the safety of motorists and pedestrians. It was estimated that the blast loosened 150,000 tons of limestone, enough to fill 100 trains of 60 cars each.

It had been planned to set off the blast this afternoon, but a report that farmers in the vicinity intended to seek an injunction caused executives of the company to decide to do the work last night. A field seismograph had been set up near the quarry by St. Louis University scientists to record earth movements caused by the blast, but the advance in the blasting hour left them with insufficient time to get the apparatus in operation, and no readings were made.

PUBLIC SERVICE CO. PAYS U. S. $226,000 INCOME TAX

Amount Is Balance of Redetermined Claim Which Totaled $405,000.

A payment of $226,087 was made today by Trustee Henry W. Kiel of the St. Louis Public Service Co. in settlement of additional income taxes assessed against the company by the Bureau of Internal Revenue for 1928, 1929 and 1930.

The matter had been in dispute, the original deficiency assessment by the Government, with interest, amounting to nearly $1,000,000. After hearings, the amount was adjusted, and last Monday the Collector of Internal Revenue filed the Government's redetermined claim, aggregating $405,745.

The amount paid today to the Collector of Internal Revenue was the balance of the redetermined claim, including interest, after credit had been allowed for earlier payments.

FIRST STEP TAKEN TOWARD APPEAL FOR HAUPTMANN

Counsel Rosecrans Says Case Will Be Taken to United States Supreme Court If Necessary.

ALLEGES MOB SPIRIT PREVAILED AT TRIAL

Cites 'Picture of Circus Maximus Daily Presented to Jury'—Judge's Charge 'Argumentative.'

By the Associated Press.

BLAIRSTOWN, N. J., April 20.—Egbert Rosecrans, member of counsel for Bruno Richard Hauptmann, convicted murderer of the Lindbergh baby, took the first step today toward an appeal to the highest court in New Jersey. He said the case would be taken to the United States Supreme Court if necessary. Hauptmann is under sentence of death in the electric chair.

Rosecrans filed with the prosecution 143 assignments of error. The document contended the verdict against Hauptmann was against the weight of evidence, and charged the Court, presided over by the Senior Justice of the New Jersey Supreme Court, Thomas W. Treachard, with "impairing a free and unbiased verdict."

The papers were signed by C. Lloyd Fisher, as attorney, and Rosecrans and Frederick A. Pope, Rosecrans is the only one of the three commissioned to appear before the United States Supreme Court, in the event the appeal is taken that far.

The document was served on Anthony M. Hauck Jr., Hunterdon County prosecutor, and filed with the clerk of the Court of Errors and Appeals. The prosecution will file an answer and both sides will present their briefs and oral statements to the court June 20.

Basis of Appeal.

The assignments of error embrace the rulings of the trial court on the admission and rejection of testimony and evidence and exceptions to the charge of the Court and the "refusal of the Court to charge the jury with the facts of the case."

"Group Q" sets forth alleged violations of the rights of the defendant under the Constitution of the United States. It says Hauptmann's rights were violated.

"Because of the biased and exaggerated newspaper reports communicated to all citizens of the county, state and nation for months before the trial."

"Because of the hysterical mob spirit with which the jury was surrounded during the entire conduct of the trial."

"Because of the picture of a circus maximus which was daily presented to the jury during all of the conduct of the trial and which deprived it of its calm judgment and reason and made a mockery of justice."

"Because of the daily presence of Col. Charles A. Ingersoll at the trial, which unduly influenced the jury to view him as the real prosecutor and constantly presented to the jury the picture of a bereaved father for whose sorrow the world demanded a sacrifice."

"Because of the repeated outbursts in the courtroom during the trial which moved the defendant to pray for a mistrial on several occasions, but which motions were denied and which outbursts unduly influenced the jury against the defendant."

"Inflammatory Summation."

MISS EARHART LANDS IN MEXICO D. F.

Aviatrix Forced Down Once in Attempted Non-Stop Flight.

By the Associated Press.

MEXICO, D. F., April 20.—Amelia Earhart landed here at 1:27 p. m. today in her flight from Los Angeles after losing her route and landing briefly at Nopala, State of Hidalgo, just north of the capital.

In spite of her half hour stay in Nopala, Miss Earhart made the 1700-mile trip in 13 hours and 33 minutes.

She was 100 miles off her course when she landed at Nopala, 60 miles north of her destination. Here she got her bearings and resumed her flight.

The figures given out here for the time of the flight were Miss Earhart's own. Her average speed during the trip was calculated at 127.6 miles per hour.

By the Associated Press.

BURBANK, Cal., April 20.—Amelia Earhart (Mrs. George Palmer Putnam), who has flown across both the Pacific and the Atlantic oceans, and is holder of the transcontinental nonstop record for women, took off from the Union Air Terminal at 9:55 p. m. last night (11:35 p. m., Saturday, St. Louis time) on a nonstop flight to Mexico, D. F.

Miss Earhart, who carried a cargo of air mail, said she hoped to reach her destination in 12 or 13 hours, and explained she was not seeking to break the record of Leiland Andrews of 8 hours and 9 minutes "because I haven't the equipment."

Originally, Miss Earhart had planned to follow a direct compass course 1700 miles to the Mexican capital, but after obtaining later weather information, she decided to fly down the West Coast, possibly as far south as Guadalajara, before swinging east.

She said after a visit there she might try a nonstop flight to New York, but said her plans were not definite.

SHARP PROTEST MADE IN NOTES TO 14 NATIONS

Reichsfuehrer Says Governing Body at Geneva Has No Authority to Set Itself Up as Judge of Nazis' Action.

'ATTEMPT AT NEW DISCRIMINATIONS'

Chancellor Honored by Reich on His 46th Birthday—Praised by Propaganda Minister Goebbels in Speech Over Radio.

By the Associated Press.

ROME, April 20.—The German Ambassador, Ulrich von Hassel, delivered to the Foreign Ministry today a strong protest against the League of Nations' Council's resolution censuring Germany for rearmament.

The text of the note which Ambassador von Hassel handed to Baron Pompeo Aloisi, chief in the Foreign Ministry, read: "The German Government contests to the Governments which in the Council of the League of Nations took in the deliberations of April 17 the right of making themselves judges over Germany. The Government sees in the deliberation of the Council of the League an attempt at new discriminations against Germany and therefore rejects it in the most resolute manner."

"The Government reserves the right to make known soon her position on different questions touched upon in the deliberation."

Comment in London: "Nothing to Get Excited About."

By the Associated Press.

LONDON, April 20.—Germany's protest against the League Council's condemnation of its rearmament was delivered to the Foreign Office today and immediately communicated to the heads of the Government, who were away from the city on holidays.

Circles close to the Government, calling the note a "general protest," said it was "nothing to get excited about."

Hitler Sends Notes to 14 Nations; Celebration of His Birthday.

By the Associated Press.

BERLIN, April 20.—A sharp, brief note flatly rejecting the censure of Germany by the League of Nations Council was sent by Reichsfuehrer Hitler to the powers today on the forty-sixth anniversary of his birth.

Fourteen nations, including Denmark, which declined to sign the protest, were notified through Germany's diplomatic representatives that "the league council and the powers had no right of making themselves judges over Germany."

The text of the protest will not be published in Germany until after Easter, if at all.

Hitler remained most of the morning at the Chancellery. A few minutes after 11 o'clock Gen. Werner von Blomberg, Defense Minister, visited him to thank him for restoring conscription to the nation. Twenty minutes later an honor company of the Reichswehr marched by under a young chief of command.

Not only did the press emphasize Germany's return to militarism as a cause for celebrating Hitler's birthday, but presents and messages emphasized this idea.

The League of German Civil Servants raised one million marks which was given to Hitler for "eruechtigung," or, in other words, for military purposes.

The Storm Troops were reported to have given a squadron of military planes.

Radio Speech by Goebbels.

Dr. Paul Joseph Goebbels, Minister of Propaganda, told the country by radio on Hitler's birthday that "the entire nation loves him because it feels safe in his hands like a child in its mother's arms."

He said Hitler was fanatically

CABINET GROUP NAMED TO DISCUSS TEXTILE PROBLEM

Hull, Wallace, Roper and Miss Perkins to Take Up Situation at Request of President Roosevelt.

ANOTHER INQUIRY BY TARIFF BOARD

Imports of Japanese Cloth to Be Gone Into in This Investigation — Rate Change Possible.

WASHINGTON, April 20.—Acting on complaints from cotton mill owners, the closing down of mills and loss of employment to many workers, President Roosevelt has ordered the Tariff Commission to make a survey of bleached cotton imports and their relation to American industry.

On the basis of that survey and the Tariff Commission's recommendations, the President, if he finds the facts warrant action, has the authority to increase (or decrease) the duty on bleached cotton cloth by 50 per cent.

The Tariff Commission's study will involve around not only the actual imports of Japanese print cloth, but their relation to general Japanese-American trade, and especially the sale of American raw cotton to Japan.

President Names Committee. Meantime the President has referred the textile problem to a special committee of Cabinet members — Secretary of State Hull, Secretary of Agriculture Wallace, Secretary of Commerce Roper and Secretary of Labor Perkins. The committee will consider the processing tax, wage differentials in the industry, foreign imports and other administrative policies which have been the subject of attack for several weeks from mill owners and the textile bloc in Congress.

Appointment of the special committee caused some gratification in Capitol Hill. Among those expected to address a mass meeting at Fall River, Mass., tomorrow, were Representatives Martin and Rogers (Dem.), Mass., who have taken an active part in the drive toward creation of higher tariff walls against Japanese imports, and elimination of the cotton processing tax.

Charles C. Davis, AAA administrator, struck back anew last night at the textile industry's protests against the cotton processing tax, "wouldn't change their competitive situation one iota." He went on: "What the textile interests are saying is that they don't want to pay the farmer a reasonable price."

Figures on Japanese Trade. Official statistics already available show that until 1934 Japanese textile imports were negligible. Under the stimulus of Japan's drive to capture foreign markets for its manufactured products, sales of Japanese cloth last year amounted to one-tenth of one per cent of total American production.

The Japanese drive carried into the current year has resulted in further increased sales of cotton cloth which will approximate 49,000,000 square yards if imports continue through the rest of 1935 at the present rate. The figure represents seven-tenths of one per cent of total American production.

American textile interests, however, say that while seven-tenths of one per cent might represent the entire cotton cloth imports, American imports of Japanese print cloths have increased during the last two years until they now have captured 25 per cent of the market in that type cloth.

Production and Imports. Official statistics show that the total American production of bleached cotton cloth is 150,000,000 square yards annually, while imports of Japanese cloth of that type amount to 30,000,000 square yards annually, or about 20 per cent of the total production.

Bleached print cloth, officials say, is manufactured in 148 American mills—128 in the south and 20 in New England—and their production of bleached cloth is one-tenth of their output.

The United States is now selling 60 per cent more cotton (in quantity) to Japan than it did in 1929, while American imports of silk — Japan's chief export — have decreased 22 per cent during the same period.

BOSTON, April 20.—Gov. James M. Curley, speaking at a Patriots' day celebration, said yesterday: "Secretary of Agriculture Wallace said that New England lacks courage and that we are whimpering over our textile situation. Massachusetts and New England are entitled to a fair fighting chance in this industrial war we are now waging. Let us give the American people a chance to transfer from welfare rolls to payrolls. Put Americans back to work by buying only American-made goods."

Robert L. Anthony, president of the Rhode Island Textile Association, speaking at Providence, R. I., suggested that the textile industry ought to be subsidized rather than the cotton grower since more persons were affected.

GERMANY SAYS LEAGUE COUNCIL IS NOT ITS DUTY

possessed of the idea to save Germany. He said Hitler had "sacrificed his happiness and his private life."

Goebbels said that although Hitler remains a simple man of the people, he was master of diplomacy. Speaking of the recent conversations in Berlin with Sir John Simon, British Foreign Secretary, and Capt. Anthony Eden, British Lord Privy Seal, Goebbels said:

"He negotiated about the question of Europe's fate for two days in 15 hours of conferences with these statesmen of world-reigning England in polished dialogue and masterly argument and figures."

Goebbels declared Hitler was a greater military expert than an army general.

"He is the best trained military expert, he knows each gun and machine gun better than a specialist. Those reporting to him on military questions are to be acquainted with the last details in order to match him. He is a man obstinately sticking to principles and dogma. He never changes his ideas. What he says today he had already planned in 1919."

"Changeable, however, were the methods which were adapted to the situations in order to attain his goal," he said.

Goebbels declared that the Spartan simplicity of Hitler and his abhorrence of decorations was the best proof of Der Fuehrer's modesty and pride, saying, "his only war decoration is the simple Iron Cross which was awarded him for personal bravery."

Hitler Praised in Press. While the Government-controlled press, which yesterday received instructions not to mention the Rhineland or Polish anti-German demonstrations, printed eulogies of Hitler, and urged unquestioning faith and obedience, the Reich celebrated his birthday en masse.

Employers were instructed to give their staffs time off to allow them to attend birthday ceremonies. Nazi Christian church bells rang flags bedecked almost every window in the country and stores displayed photographs of Hitler, the former house painter who, since his last birthday, has become the most absolute ruler of modern times.

Nazi local governments were generous with the needy. The Munich municipality, for instance, is adding 15,000 marks to its usual dole to large families. All families with three or more children benefit.

Hitler has aged considerably since his last birthday. His face is fuller, but it is a "drawn fullness." He has promised to be in Berlin tonight and to show up at the State theater for the last performance of Emmy Sonnemann, now the wife of Gen. Hermann Wilhelm Goering. When she married the general, April 10, she said she would retire from the stage. She agreed to play just once after her wedding on Hitler's birthday, and Hitler said he would occupy the honor box for her farewell.

Soviet Government Organ Praises League's Resolution. MOSCOW, April 20.—The Government organ, Izvestia, came out today with a strong approval of the league council's resolution condemning Germany for rearmament.

"Nothing but the greatest misfortune awaits Germany if her Government launches forth on the path of aggression," the paper said. "Thinking people of Germany cannot close their eyes to the fact that despite the differences which are tearing up the capitalist world, despite the differences in social systems between the U. S. S. R. and countries making up the league have joined in a unanimous warning to the Nazis not to disturb the peace."

Izvestia said every step taken by Germany which is interpreted as leading to aggression

FINGERPRINT EVIDENCE IN BREMER KIDNAPING

Government to Present Gasoline Cans Said to Have Been Handled by Barker.

By the Associated Press. ST. PAUL, Minn., April 20.—Gasoline cans, which the Government alleges bear the fingerprints of Arthur (Doc) Barker, will be offered in evidence Monday in the trial of 10 defendants for the kidnaping of Edward G. Bremer, St. Paul banker.

The trial was in recess today. The cans, the Government will charge, were discarded near Portage, Wis., by the Barker-Karpis gang as they were transporting Bremer from St. Paul on Jan. 17, 1934, to the hide-out in Bensenville, Ill. By means of this evidence, the Government hopes to bring out that Bremer was carried across the State line, and thus establish Federal jurisdiction in the case under the Lindbergh law.

The names of Barker, Alvin Karpis, Harry Campbell, Volney Davis, Harry Sawyer, William J. Harrison, Dr. Joseph P. Moran, William Weaver and Russell Gibson, alias "Slim" Gray, now dead, were brought into Friday's testimony as officials from various prisons identified photographs of all, who, with the exception of Barker, are fugitives.

Miss Florence Humphrey, St. Paul department store clerk, identified a photograph of Karpis as that of a man to whom she sold three flashlights, lenses and batteries while Bremer was held prisoner. She also identified a cap found in the automobile in which Walter W. Magee, intermediary, delivered the $200,000 ransom, as being similar to one worn by the customer, who bought the cap.

The lights were found at the scene of the ransom payment near Zumbrota, Minn., the day after Bremer's return.

Attorney-General Rules on County Circuit Clerk Aids. SAYS COUNTY JUDGES MAY CONTROL APPOINTMENTS BY O. H. JACOBMEYER.

Special to the Post-Dispatch. JEFFERSON CITY, April 20.—The Attorney-General's department today issued an opinion to State Senator C. L. Shotwell of St. Louis County, that the St. Louis County Court had full authority, under existing laws, to control the appointment, compensation and length of term of county circuit clerks.

The St. Louis County Circuit Clerk, The Circuit Clerk is O. H. Jacobmeyer, a Republican. Two of the three members of the County Court are Democrats.

Shotwell explained that he asked for the ruling because members of the County Court had been urging him to press a bill now pending in the Senate, which would give the County Court authority to limit the number of employees of the various county officers and to fix the compensation of these employees. He said he had advised the County Court that already he had authority as to the office of the Circuit Clerk, under section 11,812 of the revised statutes of Missouri, 1929, as amended in 1933, notwithstanding a contrary opinion by County Counselor Morton.

Assistant Attorney-General John W. Hoffman Jr., who wrote the opinion, held appointments by the Circuit Clerk must be approved by the County Court, and that the court had the power to limit the number of employees, their tenure of office and to fix their compensation. He said the court may at any time "modify or rescind its order permitting any appointment to be made and may reduce the compensation theretofore fixed by it."

SUSPECT IN "DRAKE ESTATE" SWINDLE DIES IN CHICAGO. Heart Attack Felt to Defendant Held Under $5000 Bond With Three Companions.

By the Associated Press. CHICAGO, April 20.—James F. Kirkendall, 66 years old, one of five defendants charged with a part in the huge "Sir Francis Drake Estate" swindle, died of a heart attack in his hotel apartment last night.

Kirkendall was arraigned yesterday with three companions and waived preliminary examination before U. S. Commissioner Edwin K. Walker. They were bound over to the grand jury under $10,000 bonds on charges of using the mails to defraud but Kirkendall's bond was reduced to $5000 on the plea he needed medical attention.

The five men were arrested two weeks ago in a raid on a North Side hotel where police said they maintained headquarters for an enterprise that obtained money from thousands of Midwesterners on the basis of a fictitious English estate.

Bear Leaps or Falls to Death. NEW YORK, April 20.—Pete, 500-pound brown bear, long resident of Prospect Park Zoo, Brooklyn, who recently was transferred to Central Park in mid-Manhattan, fell or leaped to his death yesterday in his cage pool. He was drowned.

FLORIDA MORATORIUM BILL FOR PUBLIC DEBTS PASSED

State Senate Approves, With Amendments, Measure Already Adopted by House.

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., April 20.—A modified two-year moratorium on defaulted public indebtedness gained legislative approval yesterday. The Senate unanimously passed the bill previously passed by the House, 86 to 5.

Under the bill, courts would not require payment on bond principal and interest or other debts "for a sum greater than is found to be reasonable." Only House concurrence is required before the bill goes to Gov. Dave Sholtz.

No taxing unit would be required to take advantage of the moratorium, and only those defaulting on bonds would be concerned in the court proceedings provided for in the law.

The collapse of Florida's boom in the middle twenties left many cities, counties and other taxing districts owing principal and interests on huge bond issues they had floated for various improvements. Defaults followed, and bondholders instituted court actions in an effort to collect their payments by forcing large tax levies for the purpose.

BOLIVIANS REPORT TAKING 18 MILES OF FORTIFICATIONS. Dispatches Also Tell of Breaking Paraguayan Line in Villa Montes Sector.

LA PAZ, Bolivia, April 20.—A dispatch from the Bolivian high command in the Chaco yesterday said 18 miles of Paraguayan fortifications in the central sector have been broken by Bolivian troops.

"Enemy units rushed up from the Chacaburga sector and engaged with some detachments of our troops in the region of Casa Alta," the dispatch said.

The high command also reported breaking of the enemy line at two places in the Villa Montes sector, and said the action there and at Casa Alta "continues favorable to our forces."

By the Associated Press. ASUNCION, Paraguay, April 20.—The defense minister reported today that heavy fighting was going on along the center line of the Boyville sector.

The Bolivians began a counter-offensive in the region of Casa Alta, the dispatch said.

The ministry reported a Bolivian plane had fallen in flames in the Tariari sector, in the South.

By the Associated Press. SYRACUSE, N. Y., April 20.—Federal prosecutors announced today at the tax evasion trial of Arthur (Dutch) Schultz, Flegenheimer, that "Deafy Dan" McCarthy, former lieutenant of Flegenheimer, disappeared several hours before he was to take the witness stand against Flegenheimer.

Federal Judge Frederick H. Bryant immediately issued a bench warrant for McCarthy's arrest and adjourned court until Monday morning.

Department of Justice men hurried from the Federal Building with orders to find out what became of McCarthy.

McCarthy, bartender in one of Flegenheimer's speakeasies, was on hand to take the stand yesterday and was ordered to report again, but he dropped from sight.

MAN, WIFE FOUND MURDERED IN RUINS OF BURNED HOME

Suspect Held; Officers Think Pair Was Robbed, House Set Afire to Conceal Evidence of Killing.

By the Associated Press. MARION, Ky., April 20.—Martin Brown, 30, of Union County, was held without bond here last night on a charge of murder in connection with the deaths of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Yates, 75, whose charred bodies were found Thursday in the embers of their Crittenden County home.

Brown, a brother of former Congressman John Wayne Brown of Lexington, will face a preliminary hearing here Monday.

Since the Yateses were reported to have kept money in the house, officers expressed the opinion they were robbed and the house set afire to conceal the evidence. Mrs. Yates had been shot and her husband had been clubbed.

Brown was arrested after a village storekeeper half a mile away from the Yates home reported selling Brown five gallons of gasoline late afternoon before the murders. Neighbors of the Yateses reported seeing Brown later the night of the crime in a boat on the Ohio river within a quarter of a mile of Yates' place with a large gasoline can.

FDIC ASKS FOR POWER TO CANCEL INSURANCE

Chairman Crowley Says Right to Act When Bank Management Is Found Faulty.

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, April 20.—T. Crowley, chairman of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, testifying yesterday before the Senate Banking Sub-committee, said the FDIC should have authority to cancel the deposit insurance of any bank that is found to be unsoundly managed.

"If the corporation finds that an insured bank is engaged in repeated practices detrimental to the depositors," Crowley said, "the corporation should not be placed in the position of sanctioning such practices, but should be given the power to terminate the insurance of any bank that is found to be unsoundly managed."

"For the protection of depositors, we have recommended that in such cases, insurance be extended for two years from the time that membership in the fund is terminated," Senators Glass and Coughlin suggested there probably should be some way to close the bank to protect depositors. Crowley said the power "may seldom be necessary."

Republican members of the House Banking Committee yesterday to depose the governing board of the FDIC, but they were opposed against the bill. They declared the measure would subject the Federal Reserve system to "political control" by giving the President power to remove and appoint members of the board at will. They also said it gave the reserve board too much power over currency and credit and the national debt and money issuing power too closely together.

LOUISIANA BOARD BACKS LONG IN FIGHT ON ICKES

Highway Chairman Tells Secretary It Is 'Not Interested' in Bridge If He Controls Work.

$4,000,000 FEDERAL FUND INVOLVED

Message Declares 'Your Contribution to Undertaking Has Been Voluminous Correspondence.'

By the Associated Press.
BAYTON, La., April 20.—Chairman A. P. Tugwell of the Louisiana Highway Commission notified Secretary of the Interior Ickes, Public Works Administrator, last night that the Commission was not interested in the construction of the proposed $7,000,000 rail-highway bridge over the Mississippi River here if the Public Works Administration insisted on being in charge of the work.

Tugwell's long telegram followed an open break between Senator Huey P. Long and Ickes over control of PWA expenditures in Louisiana, which Long seeks under a law passed yesterday by the State Legislature. Ickes said that if the law were passed grants from the fund would be stopped.

The PWA has made an allocation of $4,000,000 for the bridge, which would be augmented by $1,500,000 from the Federal Bureau of Roads and $1,500,000 from the State Highway Commission.

Tugwell declared: "We are very much interested in knowing on what grounds and under what pretense you propose to launch your investigation. The records of your department will disclose the fact that your total contribution to the undertaking has up to date been nothing more than a voluminous file of correspondence."

Long's fifth special session of the Legislature in nine months, adjourned today after the Senate passed the bill giving the State administration control of elections. This bill was delayed yesterday as the Senate finally enacted measures which provided for supervision by the Long's State machinery over the expenditure of Federal Public Works Administration funds in Louisiana.

The Senate rapidly passed 19 of Long's bills already given House approval and adjourned until today, to pass six other bills making minor changes in existing laws.

Minority opposition made a futile attack on the measure today and Rupert Peyton, Caddo Parish anti-long representative, announced on the House floor that he was seeking the co-operation of Senators of the law giving the State control of Federal relief money. Peyton told the House he had written a letter to Ickes asking that "it is my intention to violate this law the moment it becomes effective."

"Knowing that you are as interested in preserving democracy as I am in granting PWA loans, I am asking your co-operation in my proposed plan. Will you authorize a Federal representative to co-operate with me in this proposed violation?"

National Guardsmen, enforcing martial law here since Jan. 25, when anti-long citizens started a revolt, still guarded the Legislative chambers as the session ended.

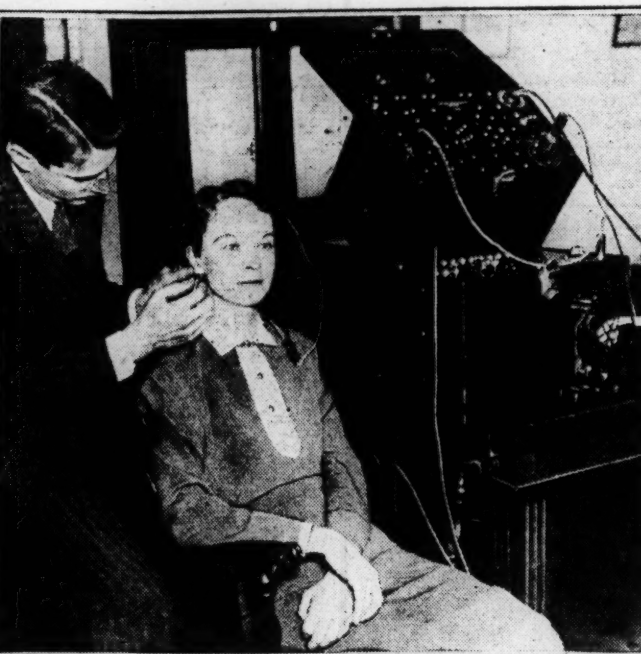

Senate Limits Debate on Day Long
By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, April 20.—The Senate yesterday, after hearing that Senator Huey Long would take the floor Monday to carry out his threat to "nail back the ears" of Secretary of the Interior Ickes for criticizing him, arranged to limit debate on that day, but the limitation will not prevent Long from speaking as long as he wants of good reason for a change of site. No definite action has been taken by the city. The Senate was unveiled in 1888 in the middle of Twelfth boulevard, between Olive and Locust streets. It was moved about 10 years later to the City Hall lawn, facing Clark avenue. In 1913 it was shifted to the present place. Art critics have considered the figure was not artistic but Gen. William T. Sherman and others used to insist that it was a good likeness of Grant as a soldier.

Next Saturday, 113th anniversary of Grant's birth, Missouri Circle of the Ladies of the G. A. R., following a custom it has observed for eight years, will place a wreath on the statue. Mrs. Frances Fisher, patriotic instructor of the circle, will conduct the ceremony. Other organizations place wreaths beside the pedestal on Memorial day.

Russell Harstick, president of the Grand-Gravels Business Association, announced yesterday that his organization would like to have the statue placed in the wide space at Grand boulevard and Gravois avenue or other place, where it would be moved. He pointed out that Grant used to drive over Gravois on his way to town from his farm. Members of the South Side Kiwanis Club, meeting yesterday at the Century Hotel, expressed themselves in favor of the relocation. Harstick said he would present the idea to the Mayor and the Art Commission.

FIGHT AGAINST MOVING STATUE OF GEN. GRANT

Patriotic Societies Rally in Protest on Mayor Dickmann's Proposal.

The suggestion of Mayor Dickmann and the Municipal Art Commission that the statue of Gen. Ulysses S. Grant be moved from the City Hall grounds at Twelfth and Market streets to the wedge at Jefferson avenue and Market street has aroused opposition among some patriotic societies.

A formal protest will be prepared under direction of Mrs. Hattie M. Moore, 3829 Washington boulevard, past president of Missouri Circle of the Ladies of the G. A. R. and past State patriotic instructor of the Daughters of Union Veterans. She said the protest would be no impediment to the relocation of the statue, but it would be presented to the Mayor and the Art Commission.

"A number of persons affiliated with patriotic societies," said Mrs. Moore, "have asked me what we would do about the proposal. The consensus of opinion is that the statue should remain where it is. We resent the idea of having it moved. We believe the present location is proper and Jefferson and Market streets would be no improvement. We look on the statue as a silent sentinel at the door of American citizenship and remind citizens of the life of Grant should be a criterion for their conduct."

Mrs. Moore asserted that she would the feeling of officers of the Ladies of the G. A. R. and of others in patriotic groups. She said that if the city felt the statue had to be moved this might be delayed until there were no more Civil War veterans here, as the veterans had brought about the selection of the present site.

Mrs. Emma Jones, 4508 Alcega avenue, State patriotic instructor of the Ladies of the G. A. R., announced she had been authorized to oppose the removal of the statue. A meeting of the Federated Patriotic Societies, affiliated with the G. A. R., has been called for next Friday to discuss the proposed suggestion of the statue's site, it was announced by the president, Mrs. E. H. Weber, 3544 South Spring avenue. She said she did not like the proposed new location, but did not care to discuss her objections until after the meeting. She had thought of calling on Mayor Dickmann to tell him it would be a mistake to move the bronze figure.

Others in the patriotic groups said they knew of no good reason for a change of site. No definite action has been taken by the city. The statue was unveiled in 1888 in the middle of Twelfth boulevard, between Olive and Locust streets. It was moved about 10 years later to the City Hall lawn, facing Clark avenue. SYMPOSIUM CLOSES ANATOMISTS' SESSIONS

Two Doctors Report Study Indicates 1,250,000 Fibers in Optic Nerve.

Final sessions of the fifty-first annual meeting of the American Association of Anatomists were held today at Washington University School of Medicine, Kingshighway boulevard and Euclid avenue. At the morning sessions, 37 papers dealing with various anatomical subjects were presented and a symposium on "The Relation of the Pituitary to Reproduction" was held in the afternoon.

Dr. L. B. Arey and Dr. W. H. Bickel of the Northwestern University Medical School, said it was reasonable to assume, from their studies, that there are 1,250,000 nerve fibers in the optic nerve of the average human. The number of fibers in a 11-month-old child was 1,066,000, they said, most of which function in enabling the child to see. In one adult, suspected of having an eye pathology, the number was only 980,332, and the lowest number reported in the study was 723,333 fibers, they commented.

Radioactivity and Glands.
Experiments in the radioactivity of mammary glands of rabbits indicated a possible therapy for mammary tumors and cancer in the human. Dr. C. W. Turner of the department of dairy husbandry, University of Missouri, stated that the effect of radioactivity treatment of these glands, he said, will inhibit future growth of the cells and the duct system.

The effect of the experiment, Dr. Turner said the apparatus was set to deliver 200 Roentgen units of radioactive rays per minute at the gland of the rabbit at a distance of one inch. The rest of the body of the animal was protected from the rays by a heavy sheet of lead. Thirty minutes were required to stop the future growth of rudimentary glands of the immature rabbit, he observed, whereas five minutes would completely inhibit the growth of the duct system. In mature or pregnant animals 25 minutes of treatment was necessary. The effect of the treatment of the cells of the gland was permanent, he added, as was demonstrated by re-examination of the glands after a repeated stimulation following a rest period of 30 to 100 days.

Demonstrations Given.
At the afternoon session, demonstrations were given of many of the experiments discussed in the papers previously presented by the anatomists, including a mechanical apparatus designed to correct acquired deafness. The apparatus was described by Dr. A. G. Pohlman of Creighton University, who explained the instrument was still in the experimental stage, but may serve as a possible substitute for the loss of certain sound conducting organs of the ear.

A series of motion pictures dealing with normal living anatomical processes were shown. Drs. W. H. F. Addison, W. B. Stewart and C. M. Kershner of the University of Pennsylvania presented pictures depicting damaged function in body organs resulting from injuries to various parts of the brain.

At the business meeting of the organization yesterday at noon, Dr. L. H. Weed, director of Johns Hopkins School of Medicine, and Dr. Richard Scammon, dean of medical sciences, University of Minnesota, were elected to the executive board. It was decided to hold the convention next year at Duke University, Durham, N. C.

COOPERMAN HELD TO GRAND JURY ON PERJURY CHARGE

Justice of Peace Lewis at Clayton Decides State Made Prima Facie Case Against Him.

Herman Cooperman, defense witness at the trial of Felix McDonald last January in the Kelley kidnapping case, was bound over to the grand jury yesterday on a charge of perjury by Justice of the Peace Lewis at Clayton. Bond was reduced from $10,000 to $1000.

The case of Cooperman, suspended City Water Department employee, has been under advisement since last week when, at the conclusion of presentation of the State's case, Verne R. C. Lacy, defense lawyer, asked for the case to be dismissed. Yesterday there were brief arguments by Lacy and Prosecuting Attorney Anderson before the order was entered holding Cooperman for the grand jury. The warrant charged that he committed perjury when he said that he was in the Southern Club gambling house in East St. Louis in December, 1930, that he saw two men there, and that he was told one of them was Dr. Isaac D. Kelley and the other John T. Rogers, a Post-Dispatch reporter.

At the opening of the hearing last week the State presented testimony to show that the gambling house was not in operation at the time Cooperman said he was there, which was about five months before Dr. Kelley was kidnapped for ransom. Dr. Kelley testified that he had never been in any East Side gambling house, and Rogers that he had not been in the Southern Club.

Lacy argued that the State had only shown in its perjury charge that Cooperman was guilty of "mistaken identity," and that, in any event, his testimony was hearsay and not material to the case, therefore was not perjury under the law. Prosecuting Attorney Anderson, however, contended it was material in that it marked an attempt by the defense to throw a doubt on Dr. Kelley's account of the kidnapping, told as a principal State's witness.

At the conclusion of the arguments, Justice of the Peace Lewis ruled that the State had made out a prima facie case and ordered the defendant bound over. In the first case of the hearing on April 9, Lacy offered testimony confining himself to combating the charge on technical grounds. McDonald, the convict for whom Cooperman testified, was convicted and sentenced to 60 years in prison.

U. S. PARK SYSTEM FOR OLD WESTERN TRAILS PROPOSED

Wyoming and Nebraska Commissions Would Mark and Preserve Migration Routes.

By the Associated Press.
CHEYENNE, Wyo., April 20.—A new National Park that would extend from St. Louis to the Pacific Coast is proposed by a special Wyoming Commission in the draft of a bill sent to Representative Paul Grever (Dem.), Wyoming, for submission to Congress. The Commission was appointed by Gov. L. A. Miller to co-operate with a similar body in Nebraska.

A bill originally drafted by Grever called for a small park including old Fort Laramie and other historical spots in Eastern Wyoming. The Wyoming Commission's substitute measure would extend the proposed park along the entire course of the Old Oregon, Overland, California and Mormon trails from the Mississippi River to California. The tentative measure states that the regions contiguous to these old trails comprise areas "of great historical significance."

Republicans Get Behind Co-Operative Program Suggested by Defeated Candidate.

By the Associated Press.
SACRAMENTO, Cal., April 20.—The Merriam administration forces submitted in the State Senate yesterday a series of amendments declaring a State production-for-use policy. The amendments were sponsored by Senator Swing of San Bernardino, who has led Gov. Merriam's forces in every major battle thus far in the upper house. The measures will be incorporated in a bill for rehabilitation act already before the Senate.

Advocated by Upton Sinclair, novelist and former Socialist, in his unsuccessful fight as a Democrat for the governorship against Merriam last November, the plan would be carried out with the aid of the State Emergency Relief Administration, which has agreed to earmark, it is said, up to $100,000 for co-operatives in the next two years.

Under the rehabilitation acts proposed by both sides, the State would provide land, plants, machinery and other necessary facilities to put the 3.2 fee was raised. It had been asserted that some of the 3.2 houses "cheated" by selling intoxicating liquor.

NEW DIVORCE SUIT GROWING OUT OF 'WIFE-SWAPPING' CASE

Lawyer Says Barton Sewell Will Seek Decree, Either in Nevada or Mexico.

By the Associated Press.
LOS ANGELES, April 20.—Another divorce suit in the Sewell-Emerson case was filed yesterday by an attorney that Barton Sewell was going to sue for divorce in the State of Nevada or Mexico, Mrs. Leah C. Sewell, "Mr. Sewell's out of the State," the lawyer said, "and when he returns he will be a free man."

Sewell's absence from California was disclosed at a hearing here on Mrs. Sewell's petition for separate maintenance. The hearing was continued until Monday.

Mrs. Sewell filed her suit after conclusion of the contested divorce suit between James Emerson and Mrs. Sewell.

Walter W. Emerson, Judge Ben B. Lindsey denied decrees to both and granted custody of the Emersons' children to Mrs. Emerson's parents. In his divorce action, Emerson sought $50,000 in damages, his former friend as co-respondent.

ALTON GIANT LOSES WEIGHT

Illness Takes 60 Pounds Off Robert Wadlow.

Robert Wadlow, 17-year-old Alton giant, has lost 60 pounds since entering Barnes Hospital, March 24, for treatment for an infected foot, it was stated today by his mother, Mrs. Harold Wadlow.

Robert, a junior in high school, is 8 feet 1 1/2 inches tall and weighs 375 pounds on entering the hospital. He had planned going home for Easter, but it was decided yesterday to delay his return from the hospital until next week. In addition to the foot infection he suffered an attack of grippe.

HOW STATE LIQUOR LAWS AFFECT CITY

Legislation Would Permit Annual $62.50 License for 3.2 Beer Places.

Liquor legislation passed by the Legislature and awaiting Gov. Park's signature would permit the city to charge an annual license fee of $62.50 for establishments selling 3.2 beer and would allow the city to regulate these places, City Counselor Hay said today. The law will become effective, under an emergency clause, when signed by the Governor.

Heretofore State law has forbidden cities to regulate or license sale of 3.2 beer. There has been a State license fee of $10 annually for this sale, but the new law would increase the State's charge to $25 and permit cities to charge as much as the State and cities to charge up to one and one-half times the county fee. The bill referred to St. Louis both as a county and as a city.

Hay construed the clause concerning regulation to mean that, by ordinance, the city could enforce Sunday closing of 3.2 beer places or any other regulations. Alderman Collins, new speaker pro tem of the Board of Aldermen, who handled liquor legislation in the last aldermanic session, has not indicated to Hay what type of ordinance should be drafted for introduction in connection with the new State law. Collins and Hay conferred yesterday. The attitude of the Board of Aldermen heretofore has been that 3.2 beer should be placed on the same basis as 5 per cent beer and hard liquors in both regulation and revenue.

Saloon pay license fees of $300 each to the State and city annually. About 2000 of them have been licensed here. Harry Scullin, former Excise Commissioner, at one time estimated there were 5000 places selling 3.2 beer. State officials said about one-third of all the 3.2 licenses in Missouri had been issued in St. Louis. So far the State has issued only 4000 such licenses for 1935, but last year there were 11,468.

Officials thought that many small establishments which paid $10 for the right to sell 3.2 beer would drop their permits, while some would decide to take out liquor licenses. The 3.2 fee was raised. It had been asserted that some of the 3.2 houses "cheated" by selling intoxicating liquor.

Hail—Easter!
Grand to Be 70.
A Long Hanging Speech.
Dictator for Holland?

By ARTHUR BRISBANE.

WITH Easter Sunday comes wide rejoicing. This country on Easter 1935, sees a Roosevelt rainbow in the sky, a $4,880,000,000 rainbow of hope and promise.

During Easter services at St. Peter's, Rome, Pope Pius, standing on the balcony of the basilica, will, by radio, "impart his blessing to all mankind."

That the head of a great church should be able, literally, to speak to all the earth, is a sufficient miracle. The Christians of earlier times would have said it could not happen until the day of judgment, when the world would hear Gabriel's horn. But that is far away, if science is accurate in its statement that the earth, and men on it, will last a million million years more—1,000,000,000,000 years.

Miss May Robson, well known on the stage 30 years ago, acting in "The Sign of the Cross," now celebrating her seventieth birthday, says, "It's grand." May Robson takes the proper view of a seventieth birthday. She had a birthday cake nearly as tall as herself, at the top a real canary singing in a cage made of candy. Miss Robson likes to go with her companion, Miss Harner, to sit in the patio and talk until 2 or 3 o'clock in the morning, because "that is peace."

"It was a fine birthday," said she, "but wait until you see what I do when I am 80."

Young women of 70 and over have this advantage over old men of the same age, the women do not complain.

A hanging in Smithland, Ky., recalls old days when crowds gathered to see men and women hanged. William de Boe spent three-quarters of an hour addressing a crowd of 100 men—third of them women. He poured violent abuse on a woman whose testimony had sent him to the scaffold. "I could have bought you off for $500," he shrieked at her, "and I wouldn't be on this scaffold. You would have taken the money and run."

The woman shouted back, "Not if you would offer me $1,000."

After making his speech, the condemned man, 23 years old, calmly submitted to the hangman's arrangements. He had had his say.

In the old days in England, unpopular criminals were abused, sometimes pelted with stones as they rode to Tyburn Hill. Others, on that last ride, were gratified by hearing ballads written in their praise.

Such a long gallows speech may convince Kentucky that hangings without crowds are more desirable.

Amsterdam's National Socialist Bund, a powerful organization in the Netherlands, would set up a Fascist dictatorship, making of Queen Wilhelmina, a mere Governor under Mussolini. The National Socialist Bund said to be tainted with anti-Semitism, might learn from early history of the Netherlands that the greatest period of world commerce, followed the arrival in Holland of Jews driven out of Portugal and Spain. You cannot promote national prosperity by discouraging intelligence.

A brilliant young Frenchman, Rene de Chambrun, at present in America, is organizing "a French information bureau in the United States" with the distinguished French soldier, Marshal Petain, as President. Young Mr. de Chambrun practices law in the United States and in France, thanks to an unusual circumstance. The State of Maryland in revolutionary days declared every descendant of Lafayette a citizen of Maryland, regardless of his birthplace.

Monsieur de Chambrun, a direct descendant of Lafayette and therefore a citizen of Maryland, can practice law anywhere in the United States. As a Frenchman he practices at home.

The thoroughness of young Frenchman, greatly admired by the late Lord Bryce, not always appreciated in this country, led young de Chambrun to spend five years in America studying in the law office of John W. Davis, before undertaking practice here.

Louis Levine, aged 30, was still warm and had $42 in his pocket, when picked up in a Brooklyn street called "The Graveyard" because of the number of racketeer victims found there.

The police said Levine had been engaged in distributing "vending machines" used for gambling purposes. In that business it is customary to meet competition by murdering the competitor. Two bullet

Once Again

By Willard Luce

JANE dressed slowly, carefully in that little blue dress Dave liked so well. He would be coming soon—to sav rood-by.

Jane felt a sinking sensation down inside her as she thought of it. The night before he had told her. She hadn't been exactly surprised. Somehow she had always known it would happen that way: that some day he would drift out of her life quite as easily as he had drifted in.

It was always that way. Easy come, easy go pertained to things other than money.

She knew what she wanted; she wanted to see him just once again after tonight. It wouldn't hold him perhaps; maybe it wouldn't even help; but that was what she wanted.

Call it woman's pride if you wish; call it anything you want to. That was still what she wanted—to hold him a day, even an hour longer. The door bell interrupted her thoughts. She finished with her powder and rouge, then looked at herself in the long mirror.

The bell rang again and she went out to answer it.

It was Dave.

For a long time he stood, holding both her hands and gazing down at her.

"AY," he said at last, "but you're pretty tonight." Then before she could even thank him, his eyes took on a faraway look and he went over and sat down in a chair.

For a while their conversation managed to keep flowing a little, then they lapsed into complete silence.

Jane sat picking stitches out of her dress, toying with her handkerchief and watching Dave. Dave sat doing nothing and watching the wall.

"You're leaving in the morning?" Jane finally asked.

"Huh? Oh—yes. No, I don't know; maybe I'll go tonight. I think that's what I'll do—go tonight."

She wondered what thoughts were racing in his brain. Perhaps he was anticipating his life in the town to which he was going. Perhaps he was thinking of other towns—towns he had left and, yes, she supposed there had been women, too, like herself. And he had left them as he was leaving her now.

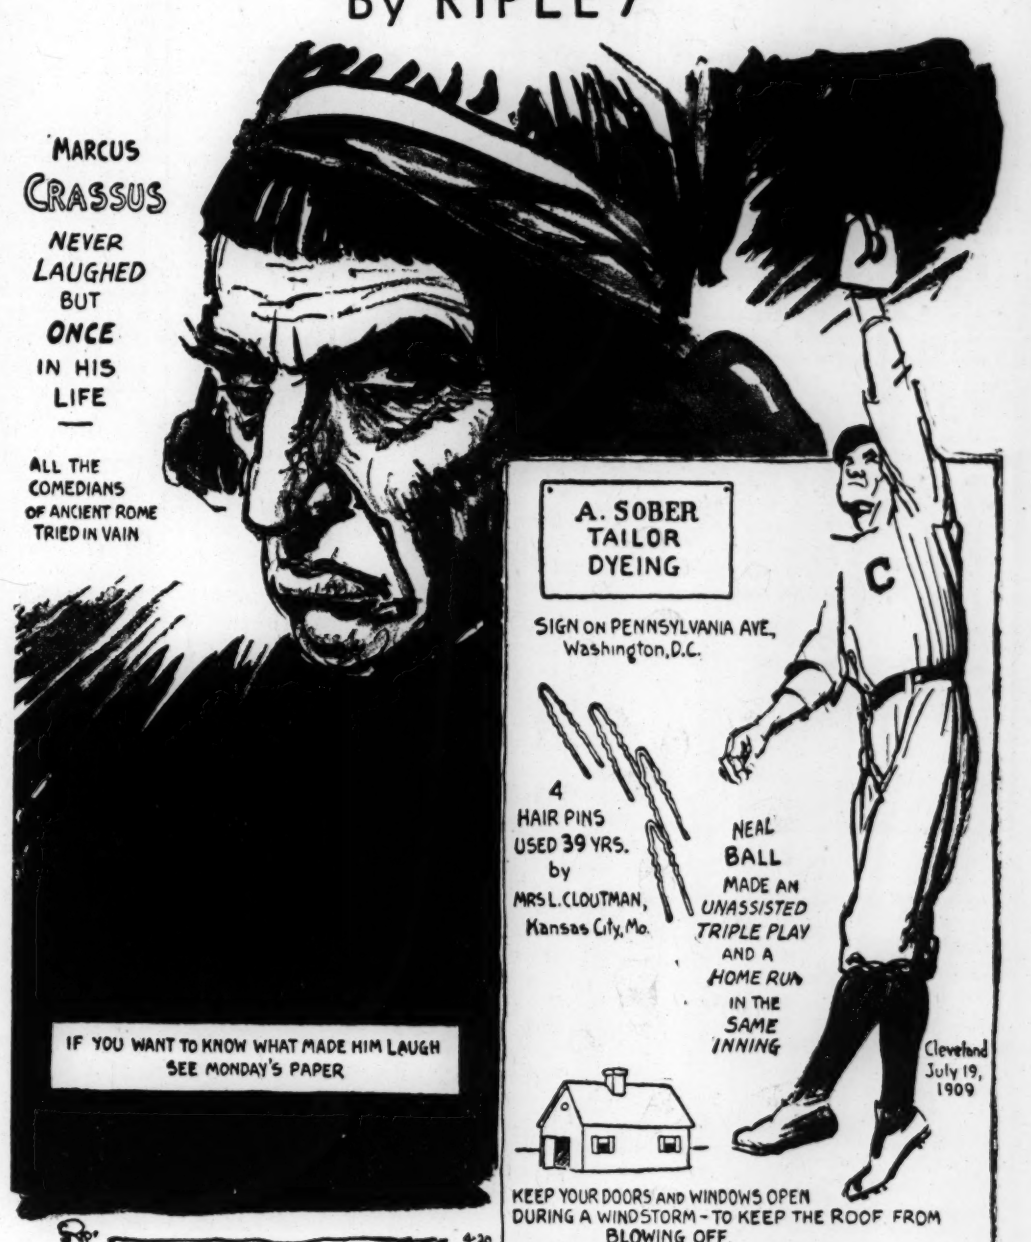

At last she broke the silence again. "Where to this time?"

"Blairtown," his eyes seemed suddenly to sparkle. "You ever been there?"

"Why, yes. A long time ago—"

BELIEVE IT OR NOT

By RIPLEY

WASHINGTON OR DEATH—When Korea opened diplomatic relations with the United States in 1883, the King designated Pak Pansa Korean Ambassador to Washington. Pak, who had never been outside the walls of the native city, protested vehemently. The King ordered him to proceed to Washington or suffer decapitation, and Pak Pansa yielded to this argument. When he arrived in Washington, the street urchins, who marveled at his strange attire, vexed the Ambassador until he packed up and returned to Korea, preferring death to diplomacy. He was eventually forgiven, but he had to spend a few months outside the walls of the city, purifying himself in prayer and humility, before his resignation was accepted.

MONDAY: THE PROFOUND LUNATIC.

But then—he hurried on down the steps. His car was soon roaring down the street.

As the car drove out of sight Jane turned from the window. Her eyes fell upon the cigarette case at the end of the davenport. It was black, and Dave's name was printed across it in white.

She smiled a little as she went over and picked it up.
